success, and future enrollment strategies. With the governor's budget close to being finalized, the CSU administration feels that a 3% tuition increase may be on the way, although other budget scenarios exist as well to account for any cuts to higher education from the state. This meeting I was able to highlight ASCSU's goals for the future semester and a continued push for advancement within our organization.

- Worked with Elections Manager Siri on increases to his job hours to increase the level of engagement with the new elections code
- Discussed with Jason Johnson upcoming constitutional changes and made sure that he and administration are kept in the loop about all upcoming bills

HOW DID STUDENTS BENEFIT FROM YOUR WORK?

This past week was filled with CSU pride as we saw the recognition of CSU day on the 11th and held the annual 1870s dinner. These wonderful events along with the Board of Governors provided an outlet for the student voice to be heard to not just administration but with donors and the larger CSU system. It is my hope that these discussions with CSU leadership have helped to maintain trust in the student body as well as support for our upcoming initiatives.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- Timing is everything

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Begin booking space for Spring arts festival

Meet with Ram Ride/Off Campus life about revitalized relationship

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

I had a very successful week talking with internal partners including Speaker Brown about initiatives that our administration is seeking. Some of these initiatives include but are not limited to a CSU Arts Festival, hosting a meeting between leaders of student governments from colleges across the state and talking about how to build up the community and morale around the office. I also had successful meetings with fee directors, specifically from Campus Recreation. I am always please with how our student fees are being spent and learning about different projects/initiatives these fee areas have in mind to benefit the students of Colorado State University!

HOW DID STUDENTS BENEFIT FROM YOUR WORK?

Students benefited from me advocating for their student fees/charges between various fee funded areas. Students will also benefit from our administration's goals and initiatives that we are planning for this semester.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- Learning budgets is still hard but is getting better
- Collaboration can be tough at time but is very rewarding
- School is getting harder – lots of things are due
- I can't let myself get down when I am frustrated

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Hear presentations from ALVS and Student Resolution Services
- Work on various initiatives
- Meet with Elections Manager Siri regarding elections
- Meet with Court regarding filing an opinion on SFRB Bylaws

HOW DID STUDENTS BENEFIT FROM YOUR WORK?

Work focusing on on-campus populations has a specific goal of representing populations not usually well represented in the executive space. I hope that this work helps shift the thinking regarding these populations as capable partners for future ASCSU leadership.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- Will need to check back with catering to ensure that setup is in the right place for mixer, will also need to think of more structuring
- Will need to structure cabinet discussions
- Still working on OEO training list
- No Senate this week might make planning hard

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Hire Director of Campus Engagement

- Conduct usual 1x1 meetings
- Work with Cole Wise on Athletic updates and reach out to Joe Parker for coffee
- Elections Committee Application
- Touch up on RHA mixer planning
- Meet with Environmental to talk policy and park passes

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Legislative Strategic Advisory Board met for the second time this week. We have begun to look and discuss legislation on both the local and state level. The monthly RMSMC Board Meeting was this week as well. We discussed the RMSMC budget and whether or not the organization will go through an audit or review at the end of the semester. Finally, I had the privilege to sit in on a meeting about developing a women’s caucus within ASCSU. I am interested to see where these meetings will go and how we can provide a community for women in ASCSU.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

It was a pretty good week in ASCSU for me, since I recovered from the flu I was able to get more done this week and feel more productive.

ACTIONS ACCOMPLISHED

Summary of Accomplishments	Other Participants/Stakeholders (Internal/External)	Date (if applicable)/ Notes
<ul style="list-style-type: none">● “Because I said I would program”● Marketing meeting/ Website brainstorming● Reached out to Office of International Programs for a possible relaunch of “You are welcome here● Communicated student requests	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● ASCSU● Director of Graphic Design● Office of international programs● Director of Traditions and programming	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● I was able to present this program to both senate and Cabinet this week about us having integrity and the ability to hold ourselves accountable as an organization.● Jackson and I sat down to finally get my page on the website looking the way I want it to. As well as brainstormed ideas for #thisismystate merch.● I shared with Alex some thoughts that students wanted for possible programming on campus.

HOW DID STUDENTS BENEFIT FROM YOUR WORK?

My activity in senate was meant to refocus everyone as we are a 4th of the way through the semester to realize what we want to accomplish for the rest of the semester. As well, I worked to reorganize my page on the ASCSU website to actually be useful in providing resources for a students.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- After I presented in senate it came to my attention that some senators used my active to tell other people what to do instead of holding themselves accountable so I learned to think through more possibilities of how things will be taken, possibly out of context.

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Meet with Officer of technology to finish website
- Solidify connection with office of international programs.
- Meet with Senator Merral for Women and Gender Collaborative program.

HOW DID STUDENTS BENEFIT FROM YOUR WORK?

Through planning efforts for our two major upcoming educational events (Zero Waste & Earth Week), we are opening up opportunities for students to get involved in sustainable efforts on campus and within our wider community. Furthermore, our ambassadors have shown dedication and passion in their involvement which has allowed them to experience student government in a new way.

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- The spring semester illness has set in for Director Royal, which has decreased productivity a little. Luckily most of the work is being done via email so we are up to speed with most things Symposium! Hopefully next week brings less phlegm, and more face-to-face meeting time.

I am finally done with my vacation and I am back in United States. I am still working on my unattended assignments and unfinished presentations. But, thanks to Baylee Lakey (Dep. Chief of Staff) and Kathryn Haggstrom (GSC Senator), I could catch up with the happenings and updates in both ASCSU and GSC. I am tightly scheduled with meetings and graduation events for the next week. It is amazing to know that I can still work on student issues for the coming eleven weeks but it is also sad to know that my stint with ASCSU is coming to an end.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

As the third week of the spring semester comes to an end, I have spent my time learning more about what my position entails and beginning to put the pieces together for BAW. This week in the department, I also met with Christina Berg, the Director of Health Education and Prevention Services, twice. We discussed further in depth the direction I wish to take with my position and talked about a new idea that the Health Network is hoping to sponsor known as the RamsFailForward Campaign.

HOW DID STUDENTS BENEFIT FROM YOUR WORK?

This week, along with possibly next week, has been more of a learning week for the Health Department. I was introduced to many astonishing individuals in my department with some valuable resources. I am becoming better equipped with the information I need to relay to the student body when applicable—which is the majority of my responsibilities as the Director of Health. This week my work with the RamsFailForward campaign will hopefully benefit students in the weeks to come.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- Placing an order for the BAW shirts- it was costly and required a lot of confirmation from different collaborators
- Learning and making a list of things to accomplish for the Wall of Strength Event for the RamsFailForward Campaign
- Understanding my position

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Finalize plans with Lindsey for BAW- new cutie idea and compliment posters
- Meet with Ambassadors for BAW volunteering
- Put up RamsFailForward posters and distribute stickers
- Further understanding my position

The student body benefitted from our work this week by having two new events to attend as well as a more informed student government.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- Lots of student org events need to be funded so it is a challenge to get everything done.

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Approve more events
- Stay up to date with payments

HOW DID STUDENTS BENEFIT FROM YOUR WORK?

Students benefited from my work this week because the Supreme Court worked with the Elections Manager to plan for the upcoming election.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- Finding times to meet with individuals in a very limited time period has been difficult. I have really started to utilize different tools to work on scheduling individuals.

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Ratify new justices at Senate next week
- Create more training opportunities for new justices
