The first week back from Spring break offered a lot of great hope for the rest of the semester ahead. We as a body discussed several issues that need to be addressed before the end of the year and have begun the full swing of election! A lot of energy surrounds the office and I hope our next student leaders are as excited as I am!

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This week in the marketing department we are still trying to work with 4imprint to get the correct artwork made for the swag materials. Currently, it is taking quite a bit of effort and time to get the art department from 4imprint to understand what we are wanting; however, I believe we are close to the finish line where we can start to send things to production. We got three new events to work on the marketing for including a health one that will be a tight turn around. All of the elections materials have been made and delivered, and we are focusing on social media campaigns and promotions surrounding the election candidates.

The materials will help put ASCSU as an organization in the understanding of students. The elections promotions on social media will help keep students involved in the candidates and let them decide whom they want as their next president and vice president. Lastly, our job as marketing is to overall promote for the students so we will continue to keep that in our mind for the upcoming events.
