EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The realization that break is upon us got me in full swing. While I attended a lot of meetings this week- my focus was put on Boulder, academics, and outreach.

ACTIONS ACCOMPLISHED

Summary of Accomplishments	Participants/Stakeholders	Date & Notes
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Boulder 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Director Rosenthal, Deputy Seiter, and Deputy Sharpe 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Yuval, Morgan, Will and I took a trip to Boulder Friday afternoon. We had 4 meetings walking in • RJ • City Attorney • Their version of off-campus life • Their Student government.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I think I can say this was the best trip I've taken in a long time. It was low cost and the impact and insight was amazing. Our noise ticket plan looks like we have a solid path on how to accomplish, Morgan is more confident on same day party registration now than ever before. And their student government was nice.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Academics 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Director of Academics 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> 2 main goals out of this, possible collaboration with the extension program and the test bank Rick and I made some ground with some test bank ideas. My estimate of cost was way off, however, that is okay And Him and I believe we have a clear route to accomplish the task
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Out Reach 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> International dance days was amazing. Congratulations to all those who managed to put that together. I got to show off my dance style on the stage. Kevin, Blake, Sam, Maddie, Hannah and I attended India night. I go every year and I can say, with the up most confidence that this is the best night of the year.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Tests 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Our environmental and sexual assault tests are going well. The team is working on making the content while I've started to navigate the path forward on how to obtain this goal

- No students show up- so Now I've been going to them. Started with Senate, hoping to get more.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- Student feedback is hard to obtain. Time to start "campaigning again" and make the rounds to them

HOW DID YOUR DEPARTMENT PROMOTE THE CSU PRINCIPLES OF COMMUNITY?

- Respect. Someone asked Kevin about running. They asked what they should look for in a VP. Kevin replied, "find someone you can yell at then go grab a beer". Kevin is spot on. He gets to deal with most of my rage and anger, listens, suggests the fix, then reminds me to "chill out". You want to know how this ties back to respect? Simple- it is the fact he and I respect each other enough to sometime be the punching bag for one another.

Vice President Report

Prepared by	Kevin Michael Sullivan
Department	Office of The President
Members	Tristan Syron, President Zach V, Chief of Staff Claire Fenton, Deputy Chief of Staff

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This past week I travelled to Europe and visited Austria and Germany. That's not necessarily relevant to my job aside from transparency. Regardless, in order to achieve the true study abroad experience, you have to talk about it all the time.

Anyways, Vice Chair Farias did well subbing for me while I was out of town. She set up and coordinated the SFRB tour on Tuesday perfectly.

I get back to the office on Thursday and find out the talk of the office is an article criticizing ASCSU. At that moment, I knew I was home. I was not involved in this situation until I had a meeting with a few members of the Collegian who expressed some concerns that I felt were valid. I plan to share these concerns with the appropriate people next week.

Aside from that, I set up the next SFRB tour with the FABs. I decided to surprise the board with catering for this event. We are getting spoons and I could not be happier. I used to work delivery for spoons and did a few catering events. Honestly, their food is really good and it is incredibly fresh. They prepare all the vegetables fresh in the morning. On top of that, the owner is a genuinely nice guy. His name is Tom and he took the time to learn everyone's name. In fact, I have a friend who is neighbors with Tom and has a chili named after him. How nice is that?! It is the Jake's Chili by the way.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

To be honest, I can't talk about a good bit of what happened this week, so there may be a few holes in this report. That being said, there was still a good deal that happened this week with the executive branch as we're preparing to head off into Fall Break. The CSU administration is slowing down as most of them are preparing for their own break, meaning that we students aren't being overwhelmed by them as well. The cabinet clearly has an idea of what they want to work on going forward into the spring, so we at least have an idea of what is coming up. Now the challenge is to make sure that people will be motivated after all of the holidays and tests.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- Challenge: We can't really manage what happens outside of this organization.
- Challenge: Other people's horrible work can mess up everything for you
- Challenge: I have to manage people that are doing things that I have absolutely no experience with.

HOW DID YOUR DEPARTMENT PROMOTE THE CSU PRINCIPLES OF COMMUNITY?

(Found at <https://diversity.colostate.edu/principles-of-community/>)

- Respect: Trying to make sure that our members treat each other properly
- Inclusion: Trying to make sure that members feel safe in our office no matter what happens outside of it.

PLEASE LIST TWO HOURS SPENT SUPPORTING OTHER DEPARTMENTS OR OUTREACH

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This week was not what I expected. There was a lot of progress made with the evaluations we are doing within the executive branch. An unforeseen issue arose early in the week which took up a majority of my attention and thoughts. I am looking forward to next week to get some of my goals and plans back on track. Also I am excited for Fall Break and think the week off of school and ASCSU will be good to rejuvenate everyone.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- Things hardly ever go as planned—a lot of unexpected things came up with ASCSU this week and I had to adjust accordingly.
- There is some tension in the office regarding a variety of things, the midterm election was this week which is a contributing factor.
- I learned a lot about best practices with the press and how to handle articles that receive a lot of attention.

HOW DID YOUR DEPARTMENT PROMOTE THE CSU PRINCIPLES OF COMMUNITY?

(Found at <https://diversity.colostate.edu/principles-of-community/>)

- Respect: In terms of the midterm election we encouraged everyone in cabinet to respect each other's opinions and to have healthy conversations around politics.
- Integrity: There were some things I faced this week that I have not had to deal with before and I am not sure if we handled them appropriately. Immediate follow-up was taken, and we took accountability for the mistakes we made to ensure they don't happen again.

PLEASE LIST TWO HOURS SPENT SUPPORTING OTHER DEPARTMENTS OR OUTREACH

- I am going to the International Dance Party this Saturday night.
- I am also attending India Nite, which was funded by the Board for Student Organization Funding (BSOF).

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Create an agenda for the Spring retreat and determine goals of the retreat.
- Continue processing evaluations and fine tune what the review process will look like.
- Communicate with deputy directors about their supervision and how to contribute to their departments.

Director of Finance Report

Prepared by	Lynsie Roper
Department	Finance Department
Members	Lynsie Roper – Director of Finance Nick Bohn - Controller

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

I am finally not sick anymore! This week was a fairly light BSOF and Travel Grant application week. However, I still had a lot of meetings regarding both applications. Many students have expressed interest in the applications, but I haven't seen a lot of applications roll in so I will do some follow up here in the next week. I will also start thinking about how to revamp the Travel Grant application to make it easier to follow and fill out. I think I will have the Finance Department RLT Ambassador (Sam) help me tackle this project. Overall, it was a busy week, but a lot was done.

ACTIONS ACCOMPLISHED

Summary of Accomplishments	Participants/Stakeholders	Date & Notes
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • BSOF/Travel Grant Meeting 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • BSOF Board 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This week we didn't have any BSOF applications. I met with organizations regarding their applications, but they elected to have their applications heard at a later date. The board also reviewed the Travel Grant applications that were submitted. With every round of applications, I learn of a new part of the application that is confusing or misworded because it isn't filled out properly. While I have reviewed the application and it does outline what group need to do to complete the application, I do believe the layout and presentation of the application could be better. That is one of my upcoming projects to tackle this year.

- Weekly Department Meeting

- Nick Bohn – Controller (Internal)
- Sam Nolledo – Finance Department RLT Ambassador (Internal)

- Nick, Sam and I had our weekly department meeting. This was the first meeting with us all together and overall it was pretty productive. I have asked Sam to sit on the BSOF/ Travel Grant board so he is familiar with the process since most of my projects revolve around this area. Nick talked about the controller book and how he is ahead of schedule in bringing it up to date. Overall, I believe the Finance Department is on the right track.

- Committee on Strategic and Financial Planning

- The first part of the semester I sat on the Budgetary Affairs Committee of the Senate to represent the Finance Department and Nick was sitting on the Committee of Strategic and Financial

	Planning. Given the nature of both our jobs, we decided that it would be better for him to sit on the budgetary affairs committee, while I sat on the Committee on Strategic and Financial Planning. This week was my first meeting. I am starting to learn the members and was able to introduce myself. I am excited to sit on this board and share my ideas.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Met w/ Student organizations 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • I met with a lot of student organizations this week regarding BSOF specifically. There were a few Travel Grant questions, but I primarily met with groups hoping to host an event. I look forward to seeing more applications.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- One lesson I learned this week came from one of my failures. I have been bad at keeping up with my emails lately given my academic workload and being sick. With this being said, I learned the importance of responding in a timely manner. While I expected people to give me grace because I had a lot on my plate, I now also recognize that it is that time in the semester where other people are sick or busy and need responses in a timely manner. Now that I am aware of my previous bias on the situation, I am fully prepared to catch up on emails this weekend and keep up with them.

HOW DID YOUR DEPARTMENT PROMOTE THE CSU PRINCIPLES OF COMMUNITY?

(Found at <https://diversity.colostate.edu/principles-of-community/>)

- Inclusion: I promoted inclusion in my meetings with student groups throughout the week. I was able to work with them to make sure their vision for their event was able to be achieved while abiding by the BSOF bylaws. This was especially the case when more than one organization member was in the meeting and they all had ideas or opinions. It is great to see missions still being upheld with the current bylaws.

- Respect: One of the principals that I felt I wasn't promoting at the beginning of the week, but recognized this and tried to be better, was respect. This was shown through my delay in email communications. I was really behind on emails, so it took me a while to respond to students, but I recognized that this shouldn't happen and tried my best to respond to emails as soon as I saw them rather than wait until my other tasks were completed.

PLEASE LIST TWO HOURS SPENT SUPPORTING OTHER DEPARTMENTS OR OUTREACH

- I met with student organizations throughout the week about their events and how ASCSU can help them. I had a lot of groups come to me this week with projects or events that couldn't necessarily be funded by BSOF. I helped the brainstorm alternative funding methods.

*what is acceptable for this? Tabling for ANY event, attending an event for a different department—for example: health fair, canvassing, drag show, homecoming parade, etc.

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Create the agenda of BSOF this upcoming week – Will be a short meeting so I hope to give the board time to work on their liaison roles.
- Continue maintaining the BSOF and Travel Grant Budget as well and pay any invoices I received this week.
- Catch up and stay on top of emails with student groups

Director of Academics Report

Prepared by	Rick Schleusener
Department	Academics
Members	Rick Schleusener, Director of Academics Ken Schmidt, Deputy Director of Academics

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This week consisted of a lot of productive meetings. Most notably, Rick, Ken, Zack, and Tristan all met up to discuss the direction that the department should go in. Ken is putting most of his focus into the GTA Instructor Training with the goal to be that every GTA takes their first semester of teaching to shadow previous instructors. Rick is putting most of his focus into the development of an online test bank and balancing out the complexity of the infrastructure with the issues surrounding academic misconduct. Tristan has set expectations that the department will continue to meet every week until it is deemed unnecessary.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- Professors will probably fight the development of the test bank a lot
 - Need to go through a committee and convince them to convince the professors
- Test Bank website development will be costly to implement

HOW DID YOUR DEPARTMENT PROMOTE THE CSU PRINCIPLES OF COMMUNITY?

- Integrity – I was upholding the Academic Integrity policy of CSU by restating to the office of the president that a student-supported test bank will likely receive backlash and is not up to the standards of the policy

- Respect – I was very respectful this week and did not get into any rash political arguments following the election on Tuesday

PLEASE LIST TWO HOURS SPENT SUPPORTING OTHER DEPARTMENTS OR OUTREACH

- Hour 1&2—Cabinet sushi dinner at Suh Sushi

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Contact physics professors and study their relationship between Koofers and the department
- Give Dr. Burns an estimate of how much work it would require to put the current test bank online
- Meet with Dr. Hickey to discuss more about Test Bank issues and how CoTL can assist us in getting professors to be cooperative with us

Campus Engagement Report

Prepared by	Samuel Braun
Department	Campus Engagement
Members	Sam Braun, Director Paine Lewis, Deputy

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Campus engagement is about to get LIT. I have been planning new ways in which I can do more than just schedule Greek life and table. As fun as that is, CE needed some new flare to attract the average student to come and hang out and learn about ASCSU. RLT has been a contentious topic recently. However, the actions of RLT members are theirs alone and should not reflect on me or the organization as a whole.

I have a new addition to tabling and outreach that will be touched on later in this report.

Fraternity and Sorority contacts are set in stone and a good relationship has been fostered. However, reaching out to smaller, less active clubs has been more difficult. • Update: We have the list from SLiCE and I am beginning to reach out to college councils and other groups so that we can reach a larger audience than just Greek life.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What is ASCSU? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Director Braun • Director Alfred 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 11 – 9 – 18 • This idea came to me and Blake as we were discussing marketing strategies that we could use to get the organization more notoriety among all students. I decided that a great way to do this would be to go out on the plaza with a camera and a microphone and ask people simple questions as well as, What is ASCSU? My plan is to edit and post these clips to the Instagram and make a fun followable series for students on campus.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lighting Ceremony 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Director Aubrey • Director Braun 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 11 – 9 – 18 • I have a meeting scheduled with Fred Haberecht to discuss possibly lighting a portion of the LSC plaza during this holiday season in combination with some sort of event with hot chocolate and games.

However, the minutes get sent to me and I am cc'd on all email communications. There are a lot of cool initiatives coming down the pipe that I think are very ambitious and would benefit all facets of the student body. One of these being the removal of plastic straws in the stadium and a Durrell express esque addition to Morgan's Grind in the library.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Deputy Report 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Deputy Lewis 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This week was really heavy with Bolivia work. Other than that I will be going to children's hospital this weekend and from what I understand they are finishing up marketing materials for the bike drive soon.

HOW DID YOUR DEPARTMENT PROMOTE THE CSU PRINCIPLES OF COMMUNITY?

(Found at <https://diversity.colostate.edu/principles-of-community/>)

- This week I think more than anything, my department showed service to our community. What is ASCSU, the lighting ceremony, tabling and outreach, are all services that we employ to better inform the CSU student body and spend their money for their own benefit.

PLEASE LIST TWO HOURS SPENT SUPPORTING OTHER DEPARTMENTS OR OUTREACH

- Blake and I spend countless hours talking about ASCSU. Some people even make fun of us for talking about it so much. I will start to quantify these hours for future reports to show the true dedication. 6 hours this week
- Tabling – 4 hours this week
- NACC pow wow event
- International Dance Night

*what is acceptable for this? Tabling for ANY event, attending an event for a different department—for example: health fair, canvassing, drag show, homecoming parade, etc.

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Begin “What is ASCSU”
- Student org list work
- Lighting Ceremony
- College Councils

Director of Community Affairs Report

Prepared by	Yuval Rosenthal
Department	State & Local Policy
Members	Yuval Rosenthal, Director of Community Affairs Hannah Taylor, Deputy of Governmental Affairs

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This past week was extremely productive and the student body benefited greatly from the workings of this department. We finalized our legislative advisory board, attended and spoke at city council, strove to establish a student-led international program, and attended meetings in Boulder to advance the Restorative Justice program at CSU and build connections with the CU-Boulder student government.

CHALLENGES/SETBACKS/LESSONS LEARNED THIS WEEK

- My mental focus hasn't quite been there because of my sickness, shoulder surgery, and Jeune's impending turn-in.
- Finding a good way to approach the sprinkler problem on campus has been an issue.
- Money is always the limiting factor.

HOW DID YOUR DEPARTMENT PROMOTE THE CSU PRINCIPLES OF COMMUNITY?

(Found at <https://diversity.colostate.edu/principles-of-community/>)

- Respect: Gina had a large paper due Thursday morning, so I did my best to accommodate and respect her need to be a student before the deputy of environmental affairs.

- Integrity: This week I have done my best to realize my shortcomings, especially with my inability to attend UFFAB. In doing so, I had to email Becca and I did my best to be honest with her.

PLEASE LIST TWO HOURS SPENT SUPPORTING OTHER DEPARTMENTS OR OUTREACH

- I helped Sam table on Tuesday since I am not able to table on my normal Friday time this week. This is largely due to my travels back to California to turn Jeune in.

ACTION ITEMS AND GOALS FOR NEXT WEEK

- Start creating a committee to help deal with the sprinkler issues on campus.
- Meet with Becca since I have missed so many of the UFFAB meetings.
- Continue resting and making sure my shoulder is healing well.

Health Director Report

Prepared by	Henry Stowers
Department	Health
Members	Henry Stowers Jena Staverosky

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This week, I began organizing a public planning commission for the CSU Campus

Thrift Store. This marks a turning point in my work in ASCSU, and the undertaking of a larger project that I hope to positively impact our community for time to come.

I am reconsidering the pocket pantry model for our school. The advantages of having disbursed and anonymous accessibility to emergency food sources are significant, but I'm beginning to think that a single, full sized and operable pantry would provide more resources to students. The ability to staff a student on site to assist in food distribution, donation acceptance, maintenance, and other tasks would offer an opportunity to create more robust infrastructure. A refrigerator would pose no issue if it was regularly checked, and a larger space could provide options for increased nutritional variety. We could even locate some basic cooking infrastructure on the spot for students that need to eat!

The main argument for pocket pantries is accessibility and anonymity.

However, 4 of our 6 pantries are either behind locked doors or in areas restricted to specific students, staff, and faculty. Anonymity is key, but only because food insecurity and poverty on our university campuses is stigmatized. An increased awareness of accessible food resources, and the sheer amount of people facing food insecurity on campus would help to dismantle this stigma. If poverty is a stigma in a domain which charges tens of thousands per year for membership, it would be better to alleviate the issue effectively at the expense of the domain's image, not its denizens. Finally, it would be very simple to continue operating the main pocket pantry in front of ASCSU, stocking it with emergency foods for 24/7 access. This is just speculation, but I will be doing more research moving forward, to provide CSU students with the best possible option for food insecurity alleviation.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

In this past week, my marketing team has finished up several projects. Marketing for the International Dance Party is done, Instagram posts are done, posters are hung up and t shirts should be in today. Identity Awareness Symposium is another deal, we are revamping the marketing materials to make everyone happy. I also updated dates on the website.

Traditions and Programming Report

Prepared by	Liam D. Aubrey
Department	Traditions and Programs
Members	Liam D. Aubrey, Director of Campus Traditions Will Sharpe, Deputy Director of Traditions Morgan Seiter, Deputy Director of Traditions

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This week the department of traditions and programs continued several existing projects as well as looked at new opportunities. We are aiming to bring back finals week coffee coupons with a modified plan to increase the rate at which they are redeemed. I will be trying to meet with Dr. Ellis next week to look at the feasibility of a temporary ice rink on campus similar to the one that used to be in the LSC sculpture garden. Deputy Seiter and Deputy Sharpe are going to Boulder to meet with officials regarding same day party registration and restorative justice.
